Foreword

A beautiful, cunning, noiseless animal stalks through the jungle. Its shining stripes glisten in the sun. Fearing nothing and vowing to protect the things it holds most valuable, it fearlessly conquers every foe that chances to cross its path.

Just as the Siberian Tiger rules his domain, unchallenged; so rule the Tigers of South High over all our worthy rivals.

The management of the Como Park Zoo seems to have the same regard for tigers as we do here at South. This year, the first animals purchased with the funds to improve the zoo, were two magnificent Siberian Tigers. This shows that the tiger has gained for itself a reputation of being not only a creature of unsurpassing beauty and intelligence but has earned great respect for itself everywhere.

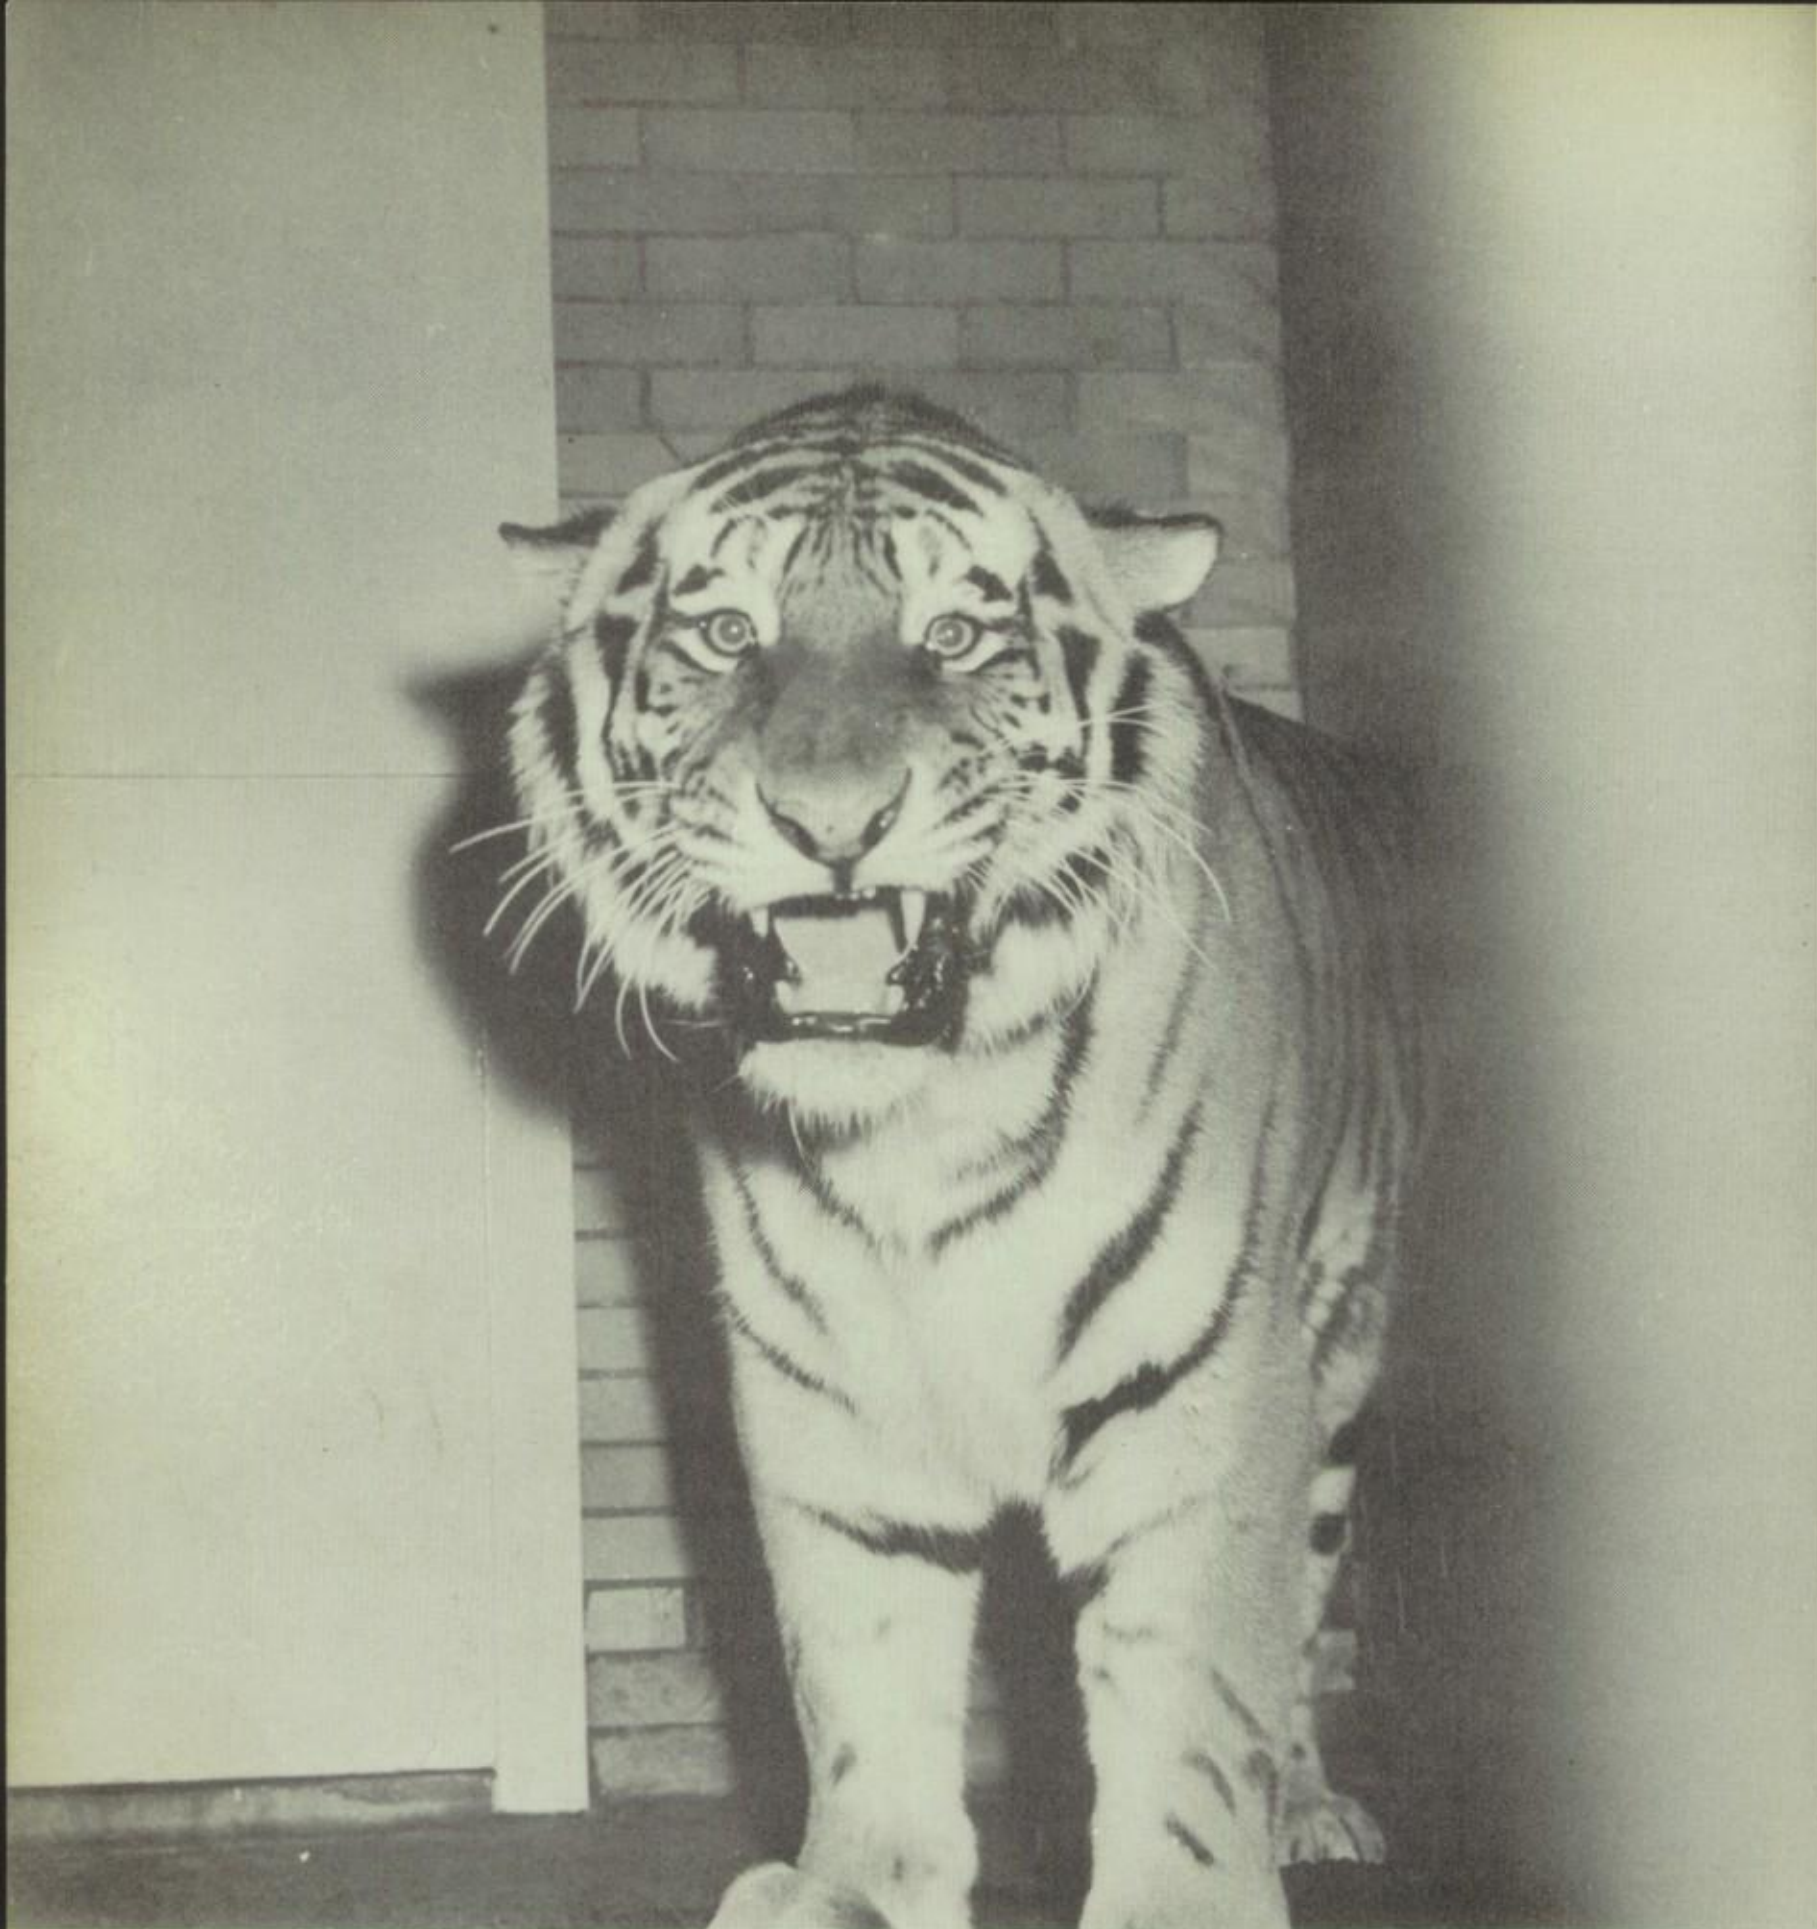

The familiar and unforgettable moments portrayed by the tigers throughout this book illustrate that the tiger, although ferocious, can also be fun and have good times.

The Tiger Staff of 1956 wishes to express their gratitude to the Como Park Zoo, Larson Studio, Dahl Company, Photomatic, Denison Yearbook Company and last, but by no means the least, Mr. Arendt, our advisor.

"... And gladly teach."

Faculty

South High School held its first graduation exercises in 1892. At that time, the faculty consisted of 20 members. Since then, we have grown to the present staff of 65 members. Through the years, our faculty has not forgotten that an important part of any young person's education is learning to become a good citizen. Our faculty strives to make each graduate of South High a well informed citizen, eager and ready to take his place in any community.

South High School can be proud of the citizens it turns out year after year. This is due to the fine efforts of our faculty, whose guidance and help through our school years has been a real source of inspiration to all students.

The greatness of any nation is likely to be measured by its development of two main resources. On the one hand there are the natural resources of the country, the land, the minerals, the forests and all of the gifts of nature.

The other important thing to consider is the development of the human resources available. Here education plays a vital role. We must be sure that we develop the ability of our people to think, to perform, and to behave in a rational manner.

The faculty at South High School has done its utmost to instill in you students the knowledge, attitudes and skills necessary so that you may contribute to our national welfare. It is our wish that those of you who are graduating to go on to further endeavors will not forget the lessons that you have learned at South High School. For those of you who will return next year, we are looking forward to a continuation of the fine progress that you have made this year. Good luck to all of you.

Homerooms

Your Home Away From Home.

This is the little room to which you creep as the first pink streaks of dawn are cutting across the sky. This is the place where the bulletins are read, the last piece of homework from the previous day is hastily written—and of course, those ever-so-precious last forty winks of sleep are caught up on. All through your years of high school you'll come to this room. In this room the same face will greet you every morning. Across this face will pass many human emotions concerning you: happiness—at the improvement of a mark, anger—at the awarding of early birds, grief—at the sight of you after the Jr. or Sr. Banquet.

All in all, what would you do without it —this little room that is your home away from home?

SOUTH HIGH MASCOTS

Sergeant-at-Arms

Organizations

Beanies, candy, pens; these symbols signify a phase of our school life in which we can serve our fellow classmates and teachers better, plus enjoying school life more. Every student at South has the opportunity to join and participate in an organization. These clubs give the student a chance to become a worthwhile citizen and an asset to his community. Though belonging to a club involves a lot of time and work, the friends one has gained will always remain in his memory.

Years ago the purpose of school was only academic, but now school is made more interesting with extra-curricular activities. Just think what South would be like without an annual staff or a school newspaper! Once there were no such things and they still don't have them in many foreign countries.

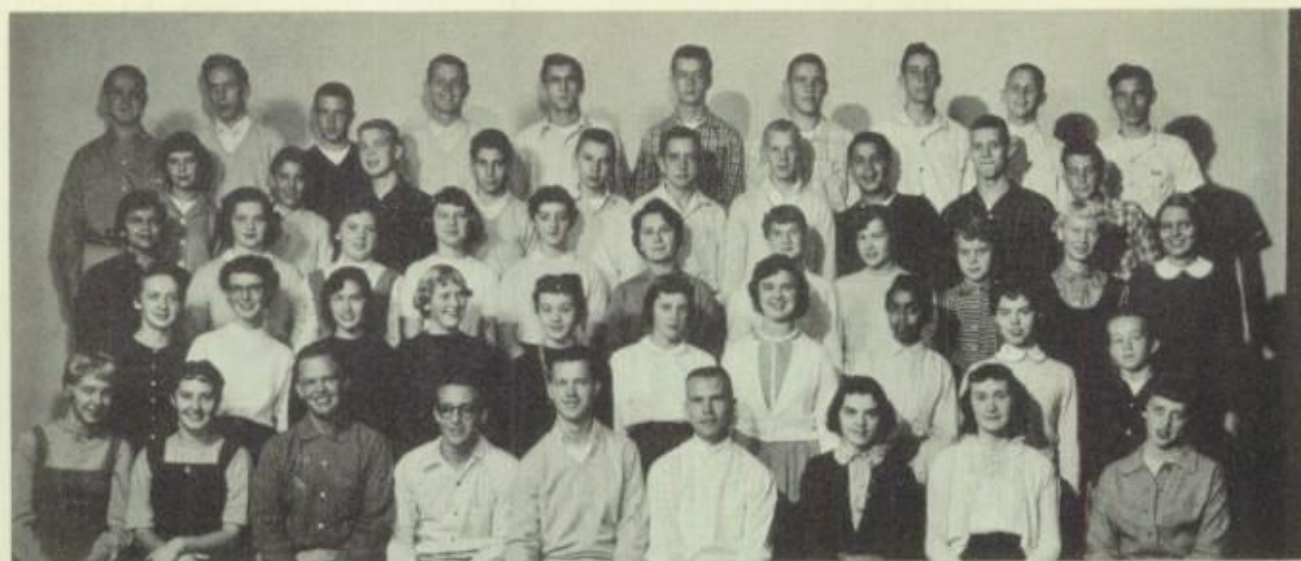

Way back in 1907 South had two clubs, but now we have a much bigger field to select from—thirty-three in all. Since we have all these clubs, why not take advantage of them in your remaining years at South?

Athletics

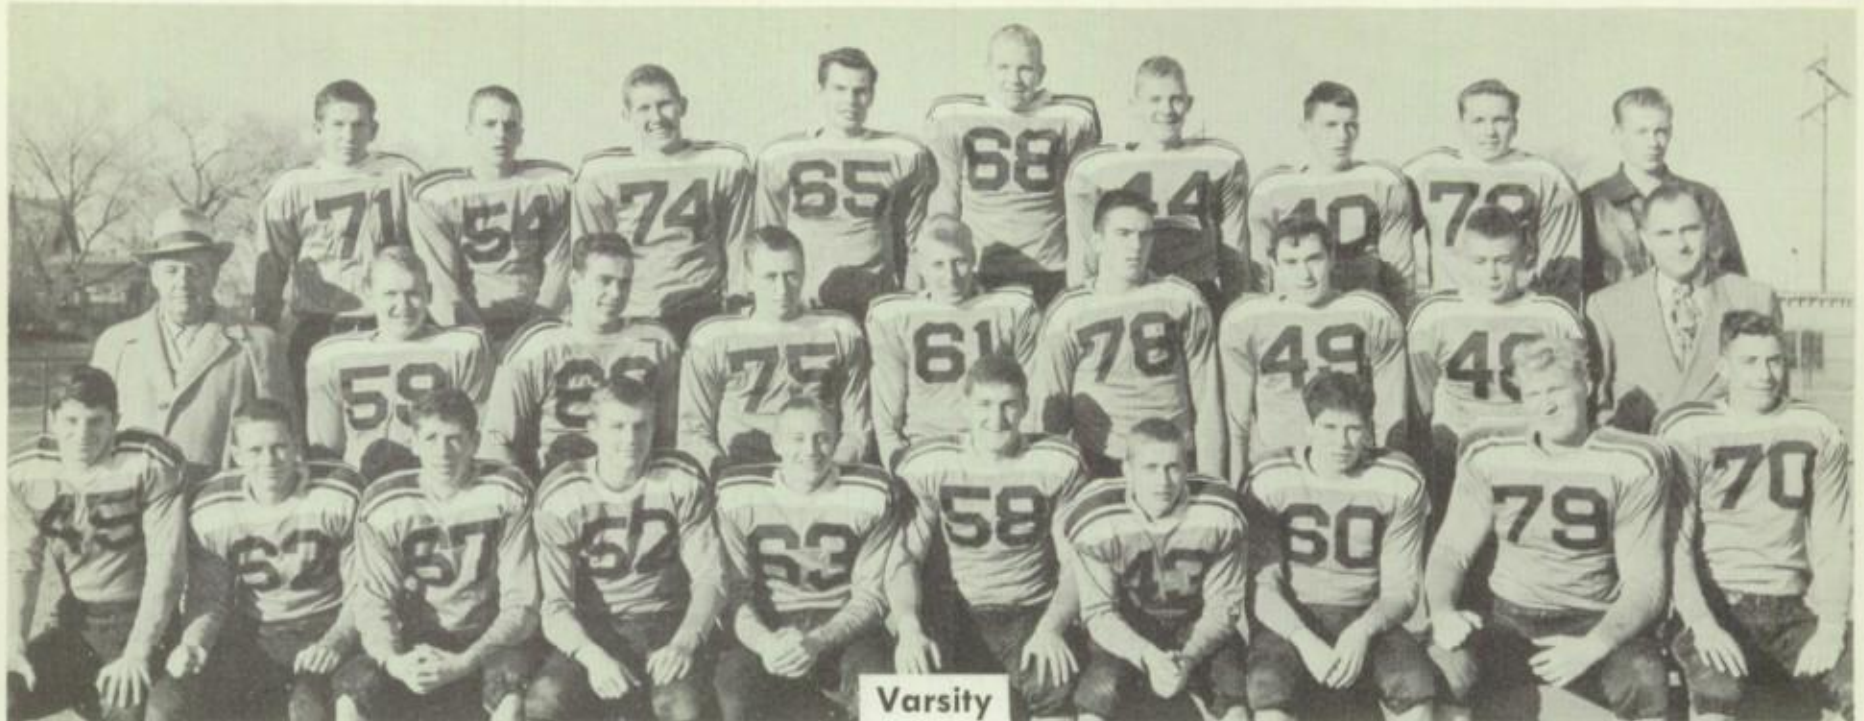

Athletics is an important part of a complete education. Teamwork, fellowship, cooperation, and good sportsmanship, are all needed to make a winning team. Skill in a sport is not as important as good teamwork and good sportsmanship. In athletics we learn to keep our heads up in defeat as well as to be humble in victory, and to offer our hand in congratulations to the winning team, even if it is hard to admit our loss. Athletics develops both body and mind, and brings about good school spirit. South teams won no championships in sports this year, but we like to think that the picture below is indicative of something even more important which was true of South high athletes. That something is their determination to play their best but in defeat to lose graciously.

"It's not that they won or lost, but how they played the game." Grantland Rice

Coach Les Barnard, Co-Captains Jerry Westby and Ron Keavy, and Coach Fredrickson plot strategy for the Marshall game.

South's '55 Tigers had a better than average season this year, winning four out of the seven games they played. Denny Johnson and Ron Keavy were both chosen for the All-City teams, first and second string respectively. The team started its season with a victory over West and at that time we were considered as one of the top three teams in the city. Because of the injury of eight players we had to settle for fifth place in the city competition.

Kaminski sneaks, fumbles, but still scores T.D. in the South-Southwest game.

The '55-'56 basketball team was a small but fast moving team headed by Don Nelson. The cagers finished their season with a seven - three record, tying for third place with Washburn. In the District Seventeen playoffs, South made a good showing but lost their first game to North and were eliminated. "Butch" Green was prep star of the week three times and was selected as guard on the All-City team.

Dale Rasmussen

Our spirited hockey team fired its way into the city playoffs for another outstanding season. Although the team was rated by sports writers as a third place team, they finished second in the city. In the regular season we lost two games, but in the city playoffs we beat both Southwest and Henry to capture second place. We were then eligible to play St. Paul Washington for the Region 1 berth in the state tournament. Unfortunately we were defeated.

Some of the outstanding individuals on the team were Co-captains Duane Hoecherl and Russ Peterson; Don Hasler, Dale Nordstrom, Tom Stevenson, and Dennis Anderson.

WRESTLING

The South High wrestling team in its second year of competition finished the season with a 1-8 record. Although the team only won one meet, they won one-third of their matches. Captain Les Nelson, Denny Johnson, and Jerry Ferguson were the outstanding wrestlers this year. Johnson entered the sub-regional meet.

Activities

Activities here at South are planned to make your life in school more pleasant as well as bring out your talent and develop your personality. You get a certain amount of responsibility as you go about preparing for these extra-curricular events.

When you participate in school activities, you not only have fun but also meet a host of new friends.

Homecoming, Snow Week, and Pep Fests are not the only activities that the school as a whole can partake in; there are also those sponsored by the various clubs of the school.

Homecoming Royalty: Maija Cukurs, Don Nelson, Marilyn Kendrick, Dale Rasmussen, Pat Scott, David Barry.

HOMEcoming

Hail, King and Queen!

Friday, October 7, 1955, was the day set aside for the crowning of the King and Queen in South's own "Kingdom of South-Hi-Via."

With the playing of "Huldingsmarsch" by the South High Band in the school auditorium, the candidates walked up the aisle, taking their places on the stage to view the 1955 Homecoming program.

The program progressed with the background of a Royal Palace Garden. From the various parts of South-Hi-Via's Kingdom came a variety of acts.

A kiss to oblige the photographer.

EVENTS 1955

The highlite drawing the program to a close was the crowning of the "King and Queen." Joanne Novak, last year's Homecoming queen, broke the seal of the scroll and then proceeded to crown the king, Dale Rassmussen. In the same manner the new king crowned the queen, Marilyn Kendrick. The new royalty then took their places on the throne.

The program closed with the singing of the "Tiger Rouser."

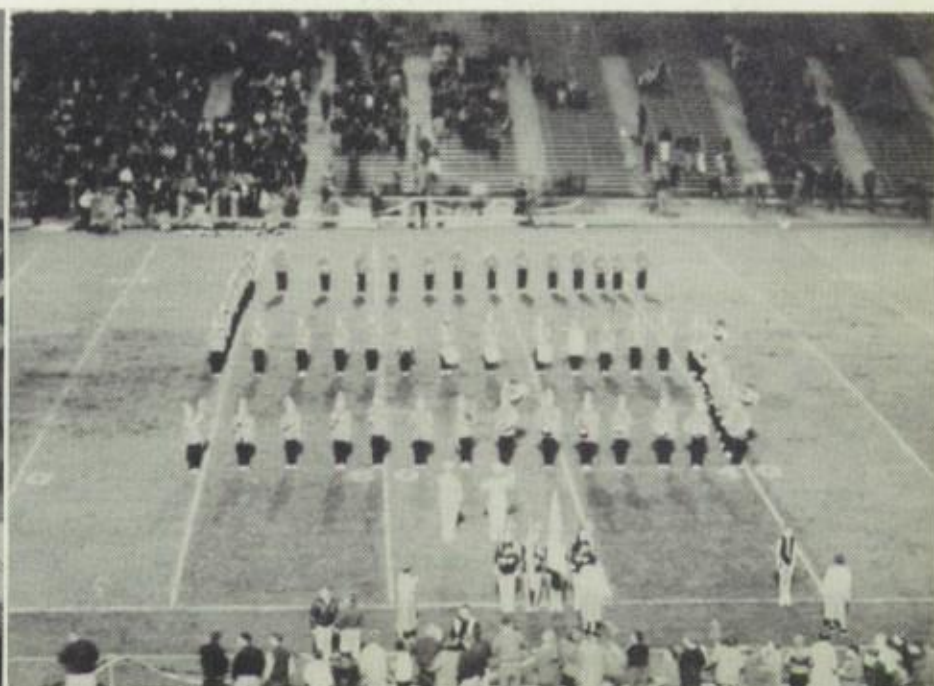

That night the Parade Stadium was the scene of our Homecoming game in which we lived up to our Homecoming slogan, "Let's Belt Roosevelt." After our victory we had our annual Homecoming dance in the school lunchroom.

The pictures shown here represent some of the many activities of South's 1956 Sno-Week.

The Friday before Sno-Week we had our annual Sno-Week Dance. The music was provided by the Sea Notes.

Beginning the week of January 23, the Student Council members sold "beanies" and pennants. Tuesday will be remembered as the day when no one cared whether plaids went with checks, or stripes with polka dots; this was known as "Clash Day." "Backwards Day" was Wednesday. Many students wore their clothes backwards, and some tried to walk and talk backwards.

What happened here

Wednesday, on the practice football field, we also had our first Sno-Week bonfire which many of the students attended. Thursday was "Student Government Day." Students were elected to take over the school administration and the teachers once more became students. Friday, to climax this wonderful week, we had our program which included a variety of acts, featuring Minnesota's Football Captain, Mike Falls, crowning Janet Anderson as Queen.

Friday night the Queen and her attendants reigned at the all-school skating party at the Arena.

Seniors

The organ has begun to play; the auditorium is filled. The day, June 14, the year, nineteen hundred and fifty-six, the time, eight o'clock.

Realizing that our senior year is coming to an end, many thoughts of our past high school years come to mind. We, who are graduating, march in nervously, but with pride in our accomplishments.

One after another, the speeches are given by our valedictorians and salutatorians. Perhaps we will not remember all that is said, but the main points will continually be with us as they are stressed over and over again after we have left school.

Finally, our big moment has come! As we step up to receive our diplomas, we cannot help but feel proud, proud not just because we are graduating, but proud that because of our foundation, we are ready to begin building our own lives as the men and women of the future.

ALMA MATER

When Alma Mater calls her sons to Old South High,
They rally 'round her mighty throne from far and nigh;
Her blazing banners gleam aloft with orange flame,
Her sons adore her, stand before her, cheering forth her name.

Though years may come when we are gone from Old South High,
They ne'er will take a loyal heart from Old South High;
Though silent time steals fast upon us, love is young,
In spite of years, of foes and fears, thy praises shall be sung.

Chorus:

Alma Mater true, all our hearts imbue
With a love for thee that cannot die. And we'll dare to do,
Alma Mater true, as should all good sons of Old South High.
